The survey by the Bureau shows that the campaign led by the Council of State Governments is at last producing results. The Bureau's interest derives from the fact that agricultural products are no less affected than manufactured products. It finds that not only has there been a slowing up in new legislation of this character, but also repeal and modification have taken place in a number of states. Only two states-Maine and Wyoming-reported setting up additional barriers. The noises of the city for a little agricultural products being the target in both instances.

ONLY CONFIDENCE CAN PRIME THE PUMP

Jesse H. Jones, who as chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, is the principal "lender" of the New Deal, testified this week before a Senate committee that a proposal for the Federal government to insure loans to business would not prime the pump of business and Just to have our slumbers broken

The experience of the last half decade strongly indicates he is right. Billions of dollars are idle in banks, and the banks are anxious There's the scampering of squirrels own use and two to sell. Wonder to lend them. The trouble is simply that there is little demand for loans of this kind, although almost every business and industry could make use of borrowed funds.

Chairman Jones virtually said so when, after reviewing the RFC's There's an old woodpecker drilling record of lending, he stated that "there has been no great demand for working capital by business and industry that has not been met.

What, then, is the reason for the situation that finds on the one hand billions of dollars lying idle in America, ready and waiting to be We can't rest at early evening for inserted in the "Lost and Found" put to use at interest, while on the other hand business and industry admittedly are in great need of funds for repairs, improvements and expansion and even for new business?

A multitude of jobs would be created if these billions were put

The answer has been stated time and again. New Deal policies have created conditions that business and industry regard as highly unfavorable for development and expansion, and New Deal taxes have taken away the opportunity for profit that is the only incentive for borrowing and lending, and also for development and expansion.

The paradoxical problem of idle money on the one hand and idle industry because of lack of money on the other-with its adjunct of unemployment-will not be untangled until the basic cause that apparently lies in the policies of the New Deal has been removed.

The profuse spending and lending of the last six years has demon strated the pump can not be primed by such means. Only by practical steps that will remove fear and restore confidence and a chance for but God is faithful, who will not profit can the pump of business and industry be made to flow freely suffer you to be tempted above that again.

The Parent Problem By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

You and I may grow discouraged at times when we perceive that our influence for good, as we see it, does not clearly manifest itself in the conduct of our children. Nevertheless, more good than we realize, perhaps, does carry over in our children. Not always does it happen as Shakespeare said, that "The evil that men do lives after them; the good is often interred with their bones." The good as well as evil in us lives on in our children.

The best in us will live on in our children if we have won their genuine admiration and esteem. In proportion to their love for us, all else being equal, will they consciously or unconsciously imitate our habits and ideals. Naturally, we want our children to admire us; but sometimes we might well wish they didn't love us quite so much!

In a quiet moment, all alone, it might do us good to reflect upon the apparent influence on us of those we have loved, even though they have long since passed away; and to consider some ideals they inspirchildren, to a measure far more From Ancestors

Senator Barkley May Be On Spot Changes Mind On Monetary Policies Administration Leader Criticised

Central Press Columnist

Washington, July 15. SENATOR ALBEN W. BARK-LEY, administration leader in the upper congressional chamber, is liable to find himself on a hot spot in connection with our national monetary policies. At one stage of the game he said one thing; now he says something entirely different His two attitudes clash.

It's correct, by the way, to speak of Alben rather as administration than as Democratic leader. President Roosevelt definitely picked him as his senatorial generalissimo. Senator Pat Harrison wanted to do the leading, but the President, in his "Dear Alben" letter, spoke so strongly for the Kentuckian that

Two Games In City Baseball League Sunday

Slovak-St. Josephs, And Columbus Club-Elders Games Are Cancelled St. Louis37 36

INDIES-TIGERS IN FEATURE GAME

The City Baseball League schedule for Sunday is somewhat curtailed this week, by picnics and other events. There will be only three games, and possibly only two if the West Pittsburg-Union Civics game is called off. The games will start at 3 o'clock.

Indies Vs. Tigers

The feature game in the card Sunday will be the league leading Lawrence Indies playing at the Lee avenue field with the West Side Tigers. Either Morrison or Faller will get the pitching assignment it was announced by Manager Tommy McCormick. The Indies pitcher will more than likely be Russu or Majocha. The Indies acording to Manager "Hoss" Zidow are going to try and caper through the second half Chicago of the city league schedule unde-

ANOTHER CALLED OFF

The West Pittsburg and Union Civics game for Sunday at the Scotland Lane Field, has been called off, according to Managers DeGenova and Jones of the respective teams. The game will probably be played at Scotland Lane on Wednesday or Friday, it was intimated.

FROM ME TO YOU

When Earth's last picture is painted, and tubes are twisted and dried, When the oldest colors have faded and the youngest critic has died, We shall rest, and, faith, we shall need shall set us to work anew!

Till the Master of all Good Workmen

And those that were good shall be happy: they shall sit in a golden chair; They shall splash at a ten-league canvas with brushes of comet's hair; They shall find real saints to draw from: Magdalene, Peter and Paul;

And only the Master shall praise us, and only the Master shall blame; And no one shall work for money, and no one shall work for fame;

But each for the joy of the working, and

They shall work for an age at a sitting and never be tired at all!

each, in separate star

Shall draw the Thing as he sees It for the God of Things as They Are! -Rudyard Kipling.

And as we enter this Sunday . . . may we all remember to be careful . . . no matter what we are doing . . . and lead a life we are proud of . . . and not one that will shame.
